DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 2-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Edamura (US 4,972,060).

Edamura et al anticipates the structure claimed including a plurality of display portions (12, 14, 15) for displaying cooking information and operating mode information on the same display portions at different times, a plurality of control switches (11, 13) for starting cooking timers for each cooking menu displayed on the display portions, the means (13) for switching and selecting a plurality of cooking information and operating modes which includes the operating names and the state of the operating utensil (also, see column 4, lines 15-21).

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed 2/23/04 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The newly recited element of having both cooking information and operating mode information on the same display portions at different times is shown by the applied prior art where the cooking information and operating mode are displayed on the display portions at different times with the switch member (13). The applicant's claim and argument with respect to such recitation do not define over the applied prior art.
